Moving to Exclude Them from Funerals in the Future.

THE STRAIN AND EXCITEMENT

Why They are Not Wanted-Every Funeral Causes Another Death. A Menace to Delicate Health.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., August 25 .- A

The funeral was that of a wealthy lady living in the lower section of the city, who stated previous to her death that she wanted no estentation at her funeral, and desired that it should be attended by no women, for it might, in case of bad weather, subject them to the risk of contracting diseases that possibly might prove fatal. This is one example of quite a number that have recently occurred in this city. Numerously attended funerals have long been popular in this city. Several years ago scores of carriages could be seen at almost any funeral here, but the experience of many of the mourners in contracting colds from exposure at the interment has resulted in a falling off in this sort of ostentation.

In New York most of the funerals are attended only by the male members of the family of the deceased, and in the European countries this scheme has for a long time been in vogue. According to the opinions of prominent undertakers of this city the day is not far distant when the mourners at all funerals will be confined to a few male members of the family of the deceased.

TOO MUCH STRAIN FOR WOMEN'S NERVES.

"The custom in vogue here of a large MATTERS FROM MARTIN'S PERRY.

TOO MUCH STRAIN FOR WOMEN'S NERVES.

"The custom in vogue here of a large concourse of friends and relatives attending funerals is a very foolish one," remarked R. R. Bringhurst, the well known Eleventh street undertaker, yesterday. "Male nembers of the family should only accompany the hearse to the burial ground, and I am glad to see that this plan is being adopted by several families of this city. Ladies should not be taken to the burial ground for more than one reason, either in good or bad weather. It subjects them to a great nervous strain to see the body of some member of their family or some relative lowered into the ground, and time and time again I have seen ladies faint from this nervous excitement.

"Sometimes there is a hitch in the dropping of the coffin, so that considerable difficulty is occasioned in getting it straightened out.

able difficulty is occasioned in getting it straightened out. Accidents of this na-ture are very prolific of nervous prostraiou, and women should not be submit ted to them. DANGER OF WEIT-WEATHER FUNERALS.

"It is a striking fact that half of our funeral take place on stormy days, when it is positively dangerous for any man, not to mention ladies, to stand for a long time on the wet ground until the interment is finished. This city is, however, getting to be somewhat enlightened on the subject of funerals. A few years ago there were forty or fifty carriages to every funeral, but now this number is reduced to about eight. Of course the more people attend innerals the better it is for the undertaker. His business is advertised, and he comes in for the burial of those who are taken sick and die because of the exposure at the burial ground. But we undertakers have sympathetic souls like other classes of humanity, and for one I advise all my patrons to have the funeral ceremony at the house, and then let only a few gentlemen of the family accompany the body to the cemetery."

EVERY FUNERAL CAUSES ANOTHER DEATH. "The exclusion of ladies and friends at funerals is an admirable policy to adopt," said Undertaker J. R. Knowles, of No. 506 Arch street, yesterday.
